

GLOBAL TECHNOLOGIES-METRACOM BECOMES THE MAJOR PLAYER IN SATELLITE COMMUNICATIONS IN EUROPE AND AFRICA

Paris, 26 April 2019,

GLOBAL Technologies announces the acquisition of METRACOM. The group thereby adds a 30-year know-how in telecom solutions, video streams transport, earth stations and VSAT networks, to its expertise in systems and infrastructures of complex telecom.

By acquiring 100% of METRACOM's capital, GLOBAL Technologies becomes the major player in communications, especially in the satellite industry – GLOBAL Technologies thus displays its dynamism in the telecom sector and establishes itself as an innovative SME within the French economic fabric.

GLOBAL TECHNOLOGIES-METRACOM, A WINNING SINERGY

Prior to this operation, GLOBAL Technologies already had an established global consulting network that was able to provide, at a suitable cost, competent resources with proper certifications and accreditations, regardless of the country of intervention.

This new synergy will allow combining the excellence of GLOBAL Technologies' services with METRACOM's expertise in SATCOM. The group will benefit from a customer portfolio of over 400 clients, which include: BFM, Eutelsat, Orange, Thales, Airbus, the World Bank, NATO, and the UN.

“Purchasing METRACOM is great news for our clients. We now offer them the possibility to benefit from strong and specific skills in the SATCOM field, while ensuring personalized and close support in the management of their sensitive data. This integration will also boost innovation for a supply that produces according to the market’s high expectations”, stated Jean-Paul Steinitz, CEO of GLOBAL Technologies.

About GLOBAL Technologies

The GLOBAL Technologies Group, an expert in engineering, project deployment in IT and telecom infrastructure is an international player in the implementation of IT systems not only for large companies, telecoms, and third parties but also for the defense sector.

GLOBAL Technologies operates in over 40 countries, with more than 80 projects that gather high-skilled specialists from every nationality.

The Group is constantly strengthening its position in international markets, thus proving its capacity to ensure the continuity and quality of its service regardless of geopolitical, climatic or logistics conditions.

International and regional organizations like the UN, NATO, European organizations, the World Bank, telecom operators, multinational companies of the defense sector (e.g., Thales, Airbus, SAIC) recommend the Group.

For more information, please visit: www.global.fr/

PRESS CONTACT

Fatoumetou CISSE,

fcisse@hopscotchafrica.com

+33 6 16 63 58 62

